

eMotion Video Training & Production can assist with video training and coaching for your organisation and/or the development of video content to enhance your website and marketing. We can show you how easy it is to produce your own professional-looking videos. Co-Directors Kirsty Nancarrow and Suzie Cray each have around 30 years of media industry experience. Suzie is the recipient of the 2021 Australia Day Achievement Award for her high-quality training videos for the QLD State Emergency Service. Kirsty is an award-winning journalist who honed her camera skills with the ABC and is now a sought-after media trainer. Suzie and Kirsty will take you step by step through the video making process, from planning to scripting, filming and editing – all with your smartphone. They can also produce high-quality videos for your website, social media channels and presentations.

eMotion Video Training & Production run full-day and two-day video production workshops face to face and online, training in how to create videos for:

- Website landing page/introductions
- Organisational culture/get to know you videos
- Community collaborations/interviews
- Repurposing webinars
- Testimonials

Package #1 - $5000

Bring video production in-house with this full day workshop for you and your staff. Learn how to choose the right video to connect with your audience, story development, scriptwriting, presenting to camera, filming and editing on a smartphone. You will also receive advice on equipment, sound and lighting and the right editing app for your organisation. We will work on your landing page video during the workshop.

Package #2 - $5000

An in-depth Video Production Workshop for one person, held over two days, including lots of time for the development of filming, presentation, and video editing skills. Includes a completed video ready to post on your website/social media channels.

Package #3 - $5,000

Don't have the time or desire to learn video? We can develop an engaging video for your website and a series of bite-sized videos for your social media to help you connect with more clients.

*We can also tailor a package to suit your needs that can complement other services eligible for this grant eg: confidence coaching and website development. Contact us for an obligation free consultation.
